NEW STORE.—HATS, CAPS & FURS!
No. 12 East Water street.—The subscriber has just received from the east, and is now opening a choice and extensive assortment of HATS, CAPS, FURS, MUFFS and MITTENS, all made of the best materials, and in the latest styles. These and all other articles in his line, the subscriber keeps on hand, and is constantly manufacturing. They are to be sold for cash, at lower prices than at any other establishment in the Territory. Farmers and others are invited to call, see and examine for themselves, before deciding to purchase elsewhere. Hats and Caps made to order, or repaired.
N. B. The highest cash price paid for all kinds of Furs.
Milwaukie, oct16 tf J. H. SILKMAN.

SAY! STRANGER—have you been in LUDINGTON & Co's Store on the corner, since they have received their Fall stock of GOODS? If you have not, I really advise you to go. It is a strange thing indeed to see such a quantity of Goods, and so equal an assortment, in any one store. I have often heard people say that they had a very large stock of Goods, but I never had an idea that their stock was so tremendously large. I have been all around town, in their "Wholesale Stores," "Cheap Cash Stores," "One Price Store," "Great Excitement" Stores, "25 ₰ cent. less than any other House in the Territory" stores, "Fancy Stores," "New Stores," "Western Stores," &c &c. but after visiting all, I put LUDINGTON & Co's store down at extra No. 1. You will find them will ng to wholesale or retail Goods cheap for cash, at one fair price, without the least excitement, not 25 ₰ cent cheaper than any other store in town, and they have a fine assortment of Fancy Goods, and will sell as cheap as can be bought at any new store in this Western country. They have, according to the information, authority and my own observations, the largest and best selected assortment of Goods in Milwaukie, and their prices appear to give first rate satisfaction among the people. It appears strange, but it is nevertheless true, that they should sell so many Goods to so many people. Why! you can hardly go into any town in Wisconsin, but what you will see undoubted evidences that they are doing a tremendous large business. As for out in the Rural Region—get miles farther you will see dry goods boxes, barrels, kegs, &c &c. with Ludington & Co's name on, which is a strong indication that they were sent there from their store, filled with Goods. Ask the principal residents of Milwaukie, Washington, Hodge, Walworth, Potawee, Fond du Lac, Marquette, and numerous other counties, who they buy their dry goods, groceries, hardware, crockery, hats and shoes, leather, shoe wax, wooden ware sash, glass, ropes paints, oils, pork, fish, salt, lumber, lath and shingles, and Minor & Horton's celebrated unrivaled Ploughs—they will tell you at the "Old Corner Store" in Milwaukie. Ask them still further, where they sell their produce, wheat, corn, oats, barley, timothy and flax seed, beeswax, hides, &c. &c. and who gives the highest cash price, and they will tell you LUDINGTON & Co. of Milwaukie. oct15

NEW FIRM & NEW GOODS.
J. R. DE RIEMER & Co. are now receiving a general assortment of Dry Goods, Dry Groceries, Crockery, Perfumery, Boots and Shoes; Paints, Oils and Dye Stuffs, &c. &c. at the old stand of Fred. Weber, corner of East Water and Michigan streets, to which they invite the attention of their friends and the public generally. They mean to sell as cheap as any other store in Milwaukie, to say the least, believing their stock to have been purchased as low in the city of New York as any other stock in market, they do not fear a fair and honest competition. They have a handsome assortment of

Saturday Morning, November 15.

A Chinese Dinner Party.

Mr. Fletcher Webster, who accompanied Mr. Cushing in his recent mission to China, is delivering a series of lectures in New York on the history, customs and peculiarities of the Chinese.—The Courier & Enquirer of November 1st publishes an abstract of one of these lectures, which contains an amusing account of a dinner party given to Mr. Cushing and his suite by the Chinese Commissioner Keying, to celebrate the conclusion of the treaty. The table was set for twenty and covered with fruits, while by each plate stood a tea-pot filled with a sort of hot punch called samshoo. The entertainment was opened by each person filling a small cup with the liquor, raising the cup in both hands, nodding to the rest and then draining the cup, taking care to turn it upside down to show that it was empty. Fruits were next handed round, Keying with his own "chop stick" seizing a fig and presenting it to Mr. Cushing. A pudding, expressly invented for the occasion by Keying, was then served and much relished by the Americans. This was followed by a hundred dishes of meat, in silver vessels, and by a great variety of delicacies, such as birds' nests, sharks' fins, sea-weed, hogs' mouths, &c., all most expensive articles and used by the rich only. Among the meats were hams, turkeys, pigs roasted whole and gilded, chicken stews, &c. In "discussing" these the Chinese entertainers would frequently pick out choice morsels with their fingers, or "chop-sticks," and thrust them down the throats of their American guests. This is regarded as the highest compliment that a host can pay to those whom he entertains. The dinner, which occupied four hours concluded with a bowl of very nice soup which Keying took up with both hands, drank out of it and passed it to Mr. Cushing, who did the same, and then it went the rounds of the whole table. The entertainment completely reversed the order of a dinner in the country, beginning with fruits and ending with soup.

New Publications.

We had occasion, a few weeks since, to speak in very high terms of Morse's School Geography. A work of somewhat similar character, entitled "A National Geography," has just been published at the East, which seems to us to merit like praise. The compiler is Mr. S. G. Goodrich, better known perhaps as "Peter Parley," who has prepared a great many useful books for young and old, and whose capacity for this business is fully proved by the success which has attended his labors. His Geography is illustrated by 33 maps and 200 engravings, and on the inside of the cover is fastened a globe map which can be removed, if desired, and which answers all the purposes of a terrestrial globe. The route taken by Mr. Caleb Cushing to China and back to this country is traced out on the Globe map. The engravings are in good taste and well executed, the maps neat and accurate, and the questions, answers and explanations pertinent and comprehensive. Within the compass of a single book, and that a moderate sized one, is compressed a great deal of useful information respecting the history and geography of the different countries of the earth. The work is more particularly designed for the school-room, but it has uses, too, for the nursery, or the office. There are few persons, adults or children, who can look thro' its pages without learning something, and the arrangement and illustrations of the text are so well contrived that what is once acquired will not easily be forgotten. The work is for sale at the Bookstore of Hale & Hopkins, Wisconsin street.

The Loco Focos of the 9th district of Massachusetts have nominated Col. P. H. Pierce for Congress, in place of "our most Williams." Mr. Pierce is a large and wealthy manufacturer!

Detroit Daily Adv.

Of course! With all their professed horror of Monopolies, Special Privileges, Rich Aristocrats, &c., the Loco Focos are sure to pitch upon Bank Presidents, Wealthy Capitalists and Mammoth Manufacturers for their candidates, whenever they can find such timber in their ranks.

Judging from dates of Milwaukie papers received here, it is the most out of the way place this side of the Rocky Mountains. The papers are generally from 10 to 15 days old, and come in a heap at that.—[Cleveland Her.

We can say ditto to the Cleveland papers.—Night before last, for instance, we received three Cleveland Heralds, one 9, another 10 and the third 12 days old. We had received none for four or five days previous. Milwaukie is not so far "out of the way" as the P. M. Department seems to be. We have certainly never seen anything like the regular irregularity of the mails in these parts for the last two months. But something of this, we are told, is owing to the fact that the Champion, the little steamer which carries the passengers and mails between St. Joseph and Chicago, can only run in fair weather.

☞ There was an eclipse of the moon on Thursday night which, the night being clear and fine, was plainly visible here.

Naval Depot on Lake Erie.—A letter from Washington City says:

"The subject of establishing a Naval Depot, for the Northern Lakes, is now under advisement and consideration. It is thought that Ohio City, opposite to the city of Cleveland, will be the site chosen."

If this Depot is for Lake Erie only, the selection of Ohio City may be well enough. But if it be intended to make a General Naval Depot for the Great Lakes, the site should be chosen somewhere along the shore of Lake Michigan, which is wholly within the territory of the United States, and can easily be made secure against any and all hostile attacks.

Population of Indiana.—The report of the Auditor of the State of Indiana, has certified to a complete list of the white male inhabitants, over the age of twenty-one years, in the several counties. The total number is 155,550—about 15,000 more than the votes given at the Presidential election in 1844. According to a calculation of the Cincinnati Chronicle, the number of white males over 21 years, indicates a population of about 800,000 persons.

☞ In calling attention to the advertisement of Mr. M'Cracken we take leave to say that we have had an opportunity of trying his segars and tobacco, and that we can recommend them to all who are fond of the "weed."

Foreign News.

The steamer St. Louis, Capt. Floyd, reached here yesterday morning between 1 and 2 o'clock, bringing intelligence of the arrival at Boston of the Royal Mail Steamer Caledonia, with eight days later news from England and the Continent.

The most important item of intelligence, so far as this country is concerned, is the confirmation of the previous accounts relative to deficient harvests in England, and in many other parts of Europe. It is now certain that not only the potatoe crop will be diminished one-half in amount, but that the grain harvest will be an unusually light one. This has caused a considerable rise in the prices of bread-stuffs on the other side of the Atlantic, and will produce an effect in the U. States.—The other news is unimportant.

☞ George Wells, who pleaded guilty to an assault with intent to murder Lewis A. Hall, at Monroe, has been sentenced to an imprisonment for 20 years in the State Prison at Jackson. This it will be remembered is the atrocious case which created so much interest and excitement last summer.

Railroad Movements.—The citizens of Cleveland enter into the project for a Railroad on the south side of Lake Erie from Buffalo to Toledo with great avidity. They held a meeting and appointed 25 delegates to the Convention, which was to be held at Cleveland.

Honor to the Brave.—The King of Prussia has ordered the houses of the two reformers, Luther and Melancthon, to be purchased by the State and converted into schools. He has likewise ordered the doors of Luther's dwelling, which the French had in a great measure destroyed, to be restored. They are to be formed of metal, and richly embellished.

Rowdyism.—As one of our citizens was driving a spirited horse along East Water street on Thursday evening, three men, standing near the corner of Huron street, sprang forward as he passed them and shouted as loudly as they could, with the obvious purpose of frightening the horse. The animal swerved to the side, gave a sudden jump, and started to run but was fortunately checked. A gentleman and lady, coming along in another wagon immediately afterwards, were served in the same way, and but that the horse was promptly reined up, might have been run away with and dashed from the wagon. If such practices are repeated our citizens will have to guard against them by the establishment of a police. Indeed we do not see how so large and rapidly growing a town as Milwaukie, can dispense much longer with the protection of a night watch.

The Milwaukie House.—We learn that this well-known public house, lately kept by Mr. C. Wall, and which has been closed since the first of October, is to be re-opened on the 1st of December next, under the charge of Mr. P. G. Jones of Prairieville. The new lessee, as we can vouch from our own experience, is a first rate landlord and has for a long time past kept at Prairieville one of the best taverns in the Territory. Under his auspices the Milwaukie House will speedily resume its former high stand in the public favor.

☞ Our neighbors of the Gazette assure us that the "Hop" at the City Hotel "came off" on Tuesday evening and not Wednesday, as we had it.—We are confident that it was well on to Wednesday when we left the room, and the hop "came off" after we did.

The Levee.—The festival at Military Hall, on Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies of the Congregational Society attracted a numerous company and passed off most agreeably. We hope that the proceeds of the entertainment were fully equal to the expectations of those whose taste and ingenuity were so successfully invoked in getting it up.

Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.

Washington, Oct. 26, 1845.

The Union corrects some errors of the correspondent of the Journal of Commerce in relation to the expenditures and receipts of the past fiscal year, a complete statement of which has just been made up by the Register of the Treasury, and is now in the hand of Mr. Walkers, the Secretary.

The receipts, after deducting the amount of drawback for return duties on goods exported, during the fiscal year, amount to within a fraction of thirty millions of dollars. The expenditures exceed thirty millions, and with the monstrously extravagant sums now accruing for the Texas campaign, promise to reach a larger amount than those of any period of Mr. Van Buren's administration, when your readers will remember they fell very little short of forty millions. This estimate of course is based upon the supposition that there will be no war with Mexico or any other foreign power. If such an event should occur, there would be but little expenditure for the want of public confidence and little income because of the destruction of, or at least the danger of commerce.

Yesterday a lady went to the police to inqure for a cloak which she had lost.—Justice Osborn, who is fond of a joke, said "Madame, we do things here without any clonk." "I beg your pardon," rejoined the lady, "I took this for the pelisse office." [N. Y. Globe.

The Louisville Journal well says: "All the recent elections show the strength and the spirit of the Whig party. Never before did a beaten party exhibit so much vitality during the first year after its defeat. A glorious victory awaits us when the time shall arrive for general and vigorous action."

Disappeared.—Daniel H. Davis, of Coshocton, Steuben county, left home about three weeks since, and has not been heard of since. It is said that he had some $15,000 or $18,000 in money with him.

Oddities from the Rhine.

I have just got back from the Rhine and I count my departure from that extorting-money-upon-false-pretences stream as the most sensible thing I have done since I embarked upon it.

Not but that the Rhine is tolerably well in its way. On the contrary, it is a very respectable kind of river—pea-soupy in hue, perhaps, but not so decidedly a drab as the "Blue Moselle."

You will see lots of castles—any one of them appearing the twin brother to the last. The same gray stone; the same pepper-box turrets; the same telescope-looking tower; the same—or nearly the same—wonderful legend of the Baron of Grozswig, or Count Thumbleriggenberg. Happy thing is it that these—naughty of old "fences" (I don't know the slang of chivalry for places for the reception of stolen goods) are uninhabited! Think of climbing up there to dinner! Terrible! But think of coming down after dinner! Mercy on us! There could have been no stout gentlemen in the fourteenth century.

Doubtless there is the wine. Most of it is eccentric vinegar, losing its right mind and turning sweetish. I asked for Johannisberger, and I got a sort of educated cider; I supposed it was all right, for I paid a pound for a bottle.

I left the Rhine to its own devices, and plunged boldly into Germany—I met in the real Germany, the unadulterated Germany, the sauerkraut eating, charcoal-burning, metaphysic-jabbering Germany. I was nearly starved: Mungo Park's journey was a bagatelle to mine. I have no respect for Clapperton and Bruce after what I came through. I can't eat soup which is no soup, but only a clandestine marriage between dirty hot water and sour grease; I can't eat sliced turnip popped raw into melted butter and sugar; I can't eat bouilli boiled to tatters, after pears preserved in sugar; I can't eat nasty, cannibal-looking pike after the bouilli; I can't eat stews made the cook knows how, out of nobody knows what. But I made a shift—hunger is sharp—and then, think of it—weep over it—just every day, as I managed to spoil a good appetite by coaxing it with some of the least worst of these conglomerated scraps of chaotic cookery—lo and behold! in would come vin and poulet and fricandeau, all very tolerable, but never, oh never did they make their appearance until you were utterly unable to attack them.

Did any one ever understand German money? Did any one ever fathom the mysteries of kreutzers, pfennings, and groschen? I defy Babbage's Calculating Machine to make any thing of these horrid little scintillas of silvery copper and coppery silver. The Germans themselves are in the dark on the matter I assure you. Change a thaler, and contemplate in mute despair the hand'ul of metalic rubbish you will get. It is of no use to any one—not even to the owner. As for distinguishing the silver from the copper, the thing is out of the question. The only general rule I can give is, that the things which look most like silver are copper, and vice versa. You had better act strictly upon this principle: it is the nearest approach which human ingenuity can make to the right one. The spots upon the coinage are curious studies of metalic cutaneous disease.—You will be apt to think that a violent small-pox has broken out in somebody's purse, and that the whole of the unhappy patients have been consigned over to you. The best thing you can do with your change is, generally speaking, to throw it away. This simple process obviates many inconveniences. For example, you have been treasuring up what you flatter yourself is a small fortune of tolerably respectable looking pieces of money, while you have been distributing to the poor all the most rascally inmates of your pockets. Presently you will be taken nicely aback. The dirty, shabby money is the only portion of any real value; the gentlemanly coins are only formed to "charm the eyes and grieve the heart." Not that they have not some odd theoretical value—but what is the worth of a coin when nobody will give any thing for it? I repeat, you may just throw away your change for any real practical good it will do you. If, however, you can bring it home, and sell it to some purblind old antiquary, as a series of coins of the Carthaginian Empire—of course, that is quite another affair. Do so, if you can. Not that with all my contempt for change—"they'd find no change in me," for I have come home quite an altered being. It is said to be a wise child that knows its own father, but it must be a wise father who knows his own child when transmogrified in appearance and habits by a tour in Germany.

I have been told that there is a word in German for "hurry." I reject the information as a clumsy attempt to deceive. I rather liked the way the mail always came in. It used to pass my window at a hand walk. It had no hour in particular. Any of the twenty-four, it was quite the same. It distributed its favors pretty equally over all. They had a delicious way, too, of harnessing the horses.—There were generally two unhappy quadrupeds pulling, and half a dozen—true, on my word of honor—attached behind. At first I thought that the hindmost were intended for pushing, like locomotives set to urge a heavy train up an incline, and I rather admired the novelty of the thing. Presently, however, I ascertained that this was the German mode of bringing home horses left at the last passed posting house. They were made fast to the diligence by long-knotted bridles, and as, in nine cases out of ten they were much more fitted for standing still than going ahead, the result was that they pulled back—probably in the ratio of three out of seven—the real workers pulling forward in the ratio of four; the difference of one being the amount of propulsive power employed. The speed attained is consequently not remarkable—but the slowness is. In fact, if you want to live cheaply in Germany for a week, you had better take your place in the diligence for a couple of hundred miles or so, when you will find your object, so far as lodging goes, perfectly accomplished.

Of course, you can't go to bed—but that is an advantage in Germany. Putting a feather bed under a man is intelligible, but another above him is quite a different thing. In Germany there are two things besides misfortune which never come single—fleas and feather beds. The former are the most industrious of the race—the latter the most downy. I never got between the two masses of feathers without thinking of the infant princes smothered in the tower. But I should like to see any body try to smother a German. They are unsmotherable. What with the tobacco-smoke and choky stove and unopening windows course of training they go through, fresh air is an article in no request at all.—Put a big receiver over the "Fadorland," exhaust the atmosphere, and horrify nature with a vacuum—the Germans would not care one whit.

If any man be blase of dinners he can eat—beds he can sleep in—air he can breathe in—coaches which will go, and horses which will trot—let him put himself in a steamer, bound for the Rhine, thence put himself in a diligence bound for some place a couple of hundred miles from the Rhine, and, the word of a gentleman for it, he will come home a sadder, and a wiser, and a thinner man.

To render his misery complete, let him arrive at Dover when the pier is unapproachable, let him land in a small boat on a squally day, let him be made very ill by the motion of the little craft, and let him begin to cast up—the expenses which his trip to the Rhine may have put him to. When he sees the sea running high, he may remember also that for the expenses of his family at home he owes bills that may be as difficult to settle as the billows.

"I was naked, and ye took me in," as the oyster said to the hungry man.

Anti-Rent Fugitives.

Towanda, Oct. 18.

Yesterday Mr. Levalley, with one of the constables of Troy township, determined to beat the bush, as he watched it till he was satisfied that he should find game. The scene of operation was a wild and lonely mountain in the southwestern part of Bradford county, Scudder the murderer of Steele, was the main object of pursuit. Suffice it to say, that while they were searching the woods they unexpectedly found Elmer, one of the Delaware chiefs. He was sitting upon a log quite alone.—The sheriff came up to him and pronounced him a prisoner. Upon this he darted away and began to cry 'murder!' at the top of his voice. This soon brought to his assistance some 15 persons, like him, fugitives from Delaware, armed with guns, pistols, pitchforks and spears. In short the prisoner was rescued, and the lives of the officers put in the greatest jeopardy.

Resistance would have been the height of folly, there were but two, and only one of them armed, to contend with sixteen, all armed and desperate; and they were on a wild mountain, miles from any settlement. The officers remained on the mountain some time, and in the meanwhile Elmer mounted a log and briefly addressed his fellow fugitives. He told them that this was their last resort; that they had been hunted from place to place like deer; that the bloodhounds of the law had even scented their retreat in the mountain fastnesses of Pennsylvania; that if they returned to Delaware they were already doomed to a shameful death; that if they remained where they were, even should worst come to worst, they could but lose their lives. And in conclusion, and in the name of the fugitives, he dared the public authorities to their best! He said that they had become desperate; that they were determined to remain where they were, and abide the result: that they numbered 35 at least, and could not be captured by a force of 100 men.

After remaining some time, the officers left their prisoners and returned to Towanda, glad to escape with their lives.

Wheat Crop of 1845.—According to the Albany Argus, the wheat crop of the United States, for this year, is estimated at 125,000,000 bushels. The wheat crop of 1842, which was the largest ever previously raised in this country, was 103,000,000 bushels. The quantity of Indian corn raised in the United States in 1844, was estimated at 124,953,000 bushels, and it is probably much increased the present year. Uncle Sam has a pretty extensive granary.—[Cleveland Herald.

Governor Briggs, of Massachusetts, in some recent remarks before the Boston Mechanics' Charitable Association, gave a pertinent illustration of Scripture from the history of Franklin. It was related of the family, he said, that Franklin's father was in the habit of reading to his children a chapter in Proverbs, wherein was the following verse: "Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men." The children heard, remembered, and pondered upon the sacred truths of revelation. By-and by the old puritanical father was laid in the grave, but the effect of his teaching remained. And during the war of the Revolution, when the American nation sent their first Minister to France, it was Benjamin Franklin, the Boston mechanic, who represented the Republic, and "stood before kings" at the magnificent Court of St. Clouds.—[N. American.

Missed his Jump.—Our friend V. L., of Chambers, tells a capital little story of a Dr. Somebody, resident in Columbus, Georgia.

The Doctor had been to a champaign frolic, and came home, late at night, "as tight as a tick." His wife had gone to bed and the Doctor undressed and stood before the fire en chemise, enjoying its comfortable warmth. His wife perceiving that he was slightly the "worse for wear," called to him, telling him to come to bed and not fall into the fire.

"Stop, my dear," said the Doctor, who was experiencing that sensation of universal rotation common after a debauch—"stop, my dear, I'll get in as soon as the bed gets round here."

Presently he stretched out his arms to make a jump, but the bed seemed to whirl by him, and he paused for another chance. Again the bed swam round to him, and he made a tremendous plunge at it, but found himself in a distant corner of the room instead of on the feathers.

"Well, now, my dear," said he, rubbing his head, "did you ever see anything whiz by so quick? Just as lief try to jump into a railroad car under full head way!" So the Doctor commenced chasing the bed "on all fours," and by dint of hard "coming," and a little assistance from his wife, he eventually succeeded in getting between the sheets.—[Wetumpka Whig.

Census of Boston.—The taking of the census by order of the city council of Boston is nearly completed, and the result according to the Transcript, will not vary much from 115,000. Population in 1840 93,338.

Newspaper Regulations.—The Post Master General has decided that newspapers and pamphlets may be carried out of the mail by mail contractors, within thirty miles of the place of publication.

Awkward.—The Washington Union lately published a foreign letter, in which the private habits of the Prussian King were shown up. The Prussian Minister immediately called upon Mr. Buchannan, in great wrath, pronounced the statement in the official organ utterly false, and demanded an apology or his passports. And so the next morning, Old Ritchie humbly apologized for the offence done to his Prussian Majesty.—[Detroit Advertiser.

From the Detroit Daily Advertiser.

From the Army in Texas.

We are allowed to extract the following from the letter of a Sergeant in the 2d battallion, 5th Infantry, now at Corpus Christi, Texas. The letter bears date 15th of October:

"After a long and fatiguing journey, we arrived here on the 11th of October.—Every thing looks warlike here, though I hear less talk of it here than in Detroit.

There are about 5000 troops here besides two companies of Louisiana volunteers, but every thing is quiet in camp—not a word about war. It is expected the troops will march into the interior, but not until after Congress meets, unless there should be some unexpected move on the part of the Mexicans. Parties of Engineers are now out surveying the country. General Taylor commands.

There is encamped all on one ground, the 3d, 4th, 5th 7th and 8th Regiments of Infantry; part of every Regiment of Artillery, amounting to two regiments, one regiment of Dragoons, and 2 companies of volunteers—quite a canvass city. I assure you. We are prepared for the Mexicans every moment—supplied with plenty of ammunition. We have one Mexican prisoner—a spy who came into camp in woman's dress.

Corpus Christi lays 35 miles from the Gulf, and it contains about twenty houses in all—there is no plantation or any thing of the kind—nothing scarcely to be had, and what we do get we have to pay for—viz: I bought a quart of small onions for one shilling, ham 31 cts per lb. and every thing accordingly. This place lays on Aransis Bay, the river Neuces is but a few miles above.

We came in the steamer Alabama, in three days over the Gulf. On her we could come only to St. Joseph Island, where we took a smaller steamer, and still smaller to run up the river. On our way we passed the wreck of the Dayton, blown up a short time ago and several men lost.—We have to dig holes in the ground for water. The climate is very hot, and it is surprising that between the heat and bad water, the troops are so healthy. No signs of civilization here, and but for the reports we have to make, we would not know when Sunday came, and I do not suppose there is a church within a hundred miles of us. Our duty is the same as week days, plenty of drilling, &c. We could have plenty of fresh fish and oysters if we were allowed to go out where we choose for them. Wood is scarce, and armed parties go out every day, a good distance to obtain it. Altogether the country is not such as I would like to live in, and I am getting sicker of it every day. I only hope we will have some fun with the Mexicans soon, if they are going to do any thing at all—merely to pass away the time."

Wheat Prospects.—A friend having recently made a journey to the interior of the State as far as Logan County, took particular notice of the appearance of the wheat crop, and reports that north of Columbus the wheat appears much better than South of that place, and from present appearances the crop of next year, in this portion of the State, will be as great as in any former year.—[Cincinnati Gazette.

A gentleman who has recently been on the wing in various sections of the State, informs us that the young wheat is up fine ly and never looked better, and that the quantity of ground put in is unusually large. The general drouth gave farmers plenty of time to prepare lands for fall sowing, and the opportunity seems to have been well improved. [Cleve. Her.

"How do you like Shakspear," said a blue stocking young lady to an old river captain. "Don't like her at all, madame, she burns too much wood, and carries too little freight.

Great Fire in Taunton, Mass.—The large brick mill occupied for the manufacture of cotton goods by Charles Richmond Esq. was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning. The factory was insured for about $20,000, it is said, at Worcester. The insurance will not cover one half of loss.

Large Eagle.—Mr. Dwight L. Williams, of West Hartland, Conn., shot, on Saturday last, an American eagle of very large size. Its wings measured from tip to tip, 7 feet and 8 inches.

American Silk.—The best silk in the country is from cocoons spun in Vermont. It is larger and stronger than silk raised in any of the Southern or Western States. The Vermont silk brings a higher price at Paterson, N. J., (say $5,25 per pound) than silk from any other State.

The Markets.

Office of the Daily Sentinel, Milwaukie, Nov. 14, 1845.

There is a slight advance in the Wheat market to-day, 68 cents having been paid for several of the samples brought in. We hear of a sale of 15,000 bushels to an eastern purchaser, this morning. Oats are a shade at 25 cents.—The weather continues fine, and the general trade of our town was never more active.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, a day of thanksgiving and Prayer has heretofore been observed in this Territory, and is deemed proper in a Christian community; I do therefore recommend to the people to meet at the usual places of worship, on Wednesday the 17th day of December next, to unite in appropriate acts of devotion, and supplication to Almighty God; humbly confessing our sins as individuals and as a community, and while we seek to obtain pardon for our past offences, implore the mercies of our Heavenly Father, let us supplicate his blessings on the people of this Territory, and the continuance of our civil and religious privileges, devoutly thanking him for the fruitfulness of the past season, and for the many blessings we enjoy in this favored land of Liberty; that he would prosper the people in all the branches of honest industry, and give efficacy to all the means of reformation, benevolence and knowledge; increasing the influence of divine truth, to correct, purify and elevate the character of the people, so as to render them worthy of blessings as heirs of an immortal hope through Jesus Christ our Lord.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the Territory to be [L.S.] hereunto affixed, at Madison, this 9th day of November, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Forty-Five. HENRY DODGE.

ALONE AND UNINCUMBERED!

The undersigned begs leave to say to the citizens of Milwaukie that he has dissolved partnership with Mr. Murphy, and has opened a new Shop in Huron street, directly opposite the United States Hotel, where he continues business ALONE! For the evidence of his skill as a Cabinet Maker, he would point to the great variety of articles of Furniture, &c. which he has manufactured during the last two years; and he would add that all articles left at his new Shop, for sale and every description of CABINET WARE, will meet with the promptest attention, and will be executed in the most approved manner. It is his intention to keep none but the very best materials on hand, and to employ competent and skilful workmen, and as it is his determination to spare neither time nor expense to merit the good opinion of his fellow-citizens, he hopes that they will give him a fair share of their patronage and support. Country Produce and Lumber will be taken at fair market prices, in exchange for any of the above Work. nov15 DAVID ROMER.

WEST WARD STORE.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

THE subscriber having bought out the old concern, will continue business on his own account at the old stand, where he is determined to sell goods cheaper than ever. He has been receiving for the last three weeks, a large and general assortment of

Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes,
Groceries and Provisions,
Hardware, Crockery,
Window Sash, Glass, Nails,
Farming Utensils, &c. &c.

All of which he will sell at a very small advance from cost, and as low as they can be bought at any establishment in the Western country. He hopes his friends and the public generally, will continue and increase the patronage they gave the old concern, and he pledges himself if they will call on him they shall be satisfied with goods and price, and have no occasion to go over the river for

"GOOD BARGAINS"

To strangers I would say, the West Ward Store is in the Brick Block, corner of Chestnut and Third streets, near the canal.
june11 R D JENNINGS.

JAMES KNELLAND would respectfully give notice to his friends that his Stores have been re built in a new and handsome style, (fire proof,) and that he has removed his entire stock of Goods from his temporary location, No. 3 Cheapside, to his NEW STORES, Nos. 157 and 159 East Water street, where he has received and is now opening $50.000 worth of assorted Merchandize, selected with much care and attention, expressly for this market, for the Fall and Winter Trade, which he offers for sale, wholesale or retail, as low as can be purchased at any other House in this city. No. 159 is fitted up for Dry Goods and Crockery, and No. 157 for Hardware, Stoves and Groceries.

He would venture to say that no House in the western country can furnish so extensive and complete an assortment of Goods as can be procured at his establishment. Persons visiting this city to buy Goods, are respectfully invited to call and satisfy themselves of the above facts.

In conclusion, permit him to say, that no person can feel more grateful for a liberal patronage, and it shall be his constant endeavor to retain that same generous confidence that has been bestowed upon him during his residence in this city. nov1

THE CITY MARKET still in the tide of successful operation. J. OGDEN & Co still continue to supply the public with the first quality of MEATS and various other little etceteras at the City Market, on East Water street, on the most reasonable terms for ready pay. Gratifully acknowledging the many favors they have hitherto received from the Milwaukie community, they will spare no efforts to merit the continuance of public patronage.
nov1 J. OGDEN & Co.

WAR!! WAR!!

☞ The astounding intelligence of a Declaration of War with Mexico, together with the assurance that DAYAN has now open for examination his tremendous stock of this moment reached us, Which will most effect the interest of the citizens of Wisconsin, and whether there will be a similitude in effect, is yet to be determined. That it is important that both should be immediately made known to the public, we are aware; therefore for expediency, we couple the announcement. Of the former we can only say, that the news came well authenticated. Of the latter we have it from numerous and reliable sources, that for extent, variety, beauty and richness, together with extreme cheapness, he has by far the best bargains ever offered in the western market. EMPIRE HOT AIR COOKING STOVE.

L. J. FARWELL,

Roger's Block, on East Water Street,

Now offers to the public this approved Cook Stove, of different sizes, to suit small families, or large Boarding Houses or Hotels The high character which this Stove has obtained wherever it has been introduced, is a guaranty of its excellence. The complete success which has attended the introduction of hot air into the oven, and other improvements in the construction of the Empire Stove, justify him in warranting them to bake equally as well as a brick oven, and to perform all other operations in cooking with 50 per cent less fuel than any other cooking stove now in use.

An examination of the stove will ensure its sale, and a trial of it fully realize all reasonable expectations. aug 14

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.—Fever one of the most frequent and dangerous diseases to which the human body is liable Its first impression is upon the nervous system, then the vessels of the skin become deranged, producing hyper and burning heat After this the general system is involved, and the patient sinks beneath the attack, unless relieved by appropriate remedies Noxious effluvia and vitious miasma are the cause of fever being introduced into the atmosphere, and then breathed into the lungs, where the poison combines with the impure fluids of the body and is carried by the circulating organs to the remote ramifications of the system If then, the animal frame is kept in a perfect sound and healthy state, and every organ performing its functions properly there can be no union of the predisposing cause, which is the noxious effluvia or any miasm, with the system, when in an impure state of the blood and disordered condition of the general constitution will rarely if ever ensue

For further particulars and conclusive evidence of its superior value and efficacy, see pamphlets which may be obtained of agents gratis.
